

Christopher Coluccio
CEO Techworks Consulting Inc.

From his early years, Chris had a love of computers, coding his first program at the age of 8. He went on to study Computer Science at Dowling College. During that time, he worked on such projects as the “Big Dig” in Boston and large construction projects in Manhattan. He went on to become the IT Administrator of one of the largest print manufacturers on Long Island. It was around that time he met his business partner, Keith, and the building blocks of Techworks began. Starting in 2002, he was able to make their dream a reality.

Chris is widely-recognized for his vigorous advocacy of technological innovations and high standards for quality support and services. Having over 20 years of experience in the IT industry, Chris has worked with numerous companies spanning various industries providing services to keep their organizations running smoothly and securely. Chris is also the co-chair of the HIA-LI Technology for Business Committee.
