

Warren Melnick
Millennium Communications, Inc.

Mr. Melnick is Millennium's Director of IT & Security. He oversees a department responsible for the security, integrity and availability of all of data entrusted to Millennium by their international and Fortune 50 client base. His department is also responsible for the physical security of the corporate office.

As a retired attorney obsessed with understanding the nuances of the HIPAA rules and regulations, Mr. Melnick brings to the table over two decades of IT data security credentials. He is credited with having helped many entities, from sole practitioners to major Fortune 50 companies, prepare for and successfully pass PCI Compliance, HIPAA security and similarly critical security audits.

When not protecting data from unscrupulous provocateurs, he enjoys his many computer-based hobbies, refurbishing old turntables, reading and watching Science Fiction, driving his Mustang convertibles and his active community and civic involvement as a Freemason.
